Observations... By the Editor

We stated last week, and we repeat it again, that the columns of this newspaper are open to all candidates, and in particular to the candidates for Supervisor, Beat 5. The Echo is one of Mississippi's outstanding weeklies. It has a circulation of approximately 3000, which has been built by giving to you, our readers a good newspaper. We are proud of our accomplishments; and are indeed grateful to you for your splendid support. Throughout the time we have edited this paper, we have tried to be fair, and if a mistake was made in our column we have always been happy to make a correction. In our last issue, we published the list of candidates for the various offices in the county; and, of all things we failed to publish the name of one of our opponents, C. O. (Buddy) Dufour. We want to offer our apologies to Buddy and assure him that it was an oversight. With our apology we are publishing Buddy's letter.

A. G. Favre, Editor,
The Sea Coast Echo,
Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.
Dear Mr. Favre:

This will call your attention to the fact that on the front page of your edition of the Sea Coast Echo of the week of June 15th, my name did not appear as a candidate for the office of Supervisor of Beat 5, Hancock County, although I have qualified with the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee.

As I feel that I am one of the leading candidates for this office, and as this error has caused me to be quite perturbed and embarrassed, I ask that you kindly correct this omission in your next edition by announcing on your front page, and giving notice to the public that my name was omitted in error, and that I am a qualified candidate for the office of Supervisor of Beat 5, Hancock County.

Thanking you to give this matter your prompt attention, I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,
C. O. (Buddy) Dufour

With it all, Buddy, I am not such a naughty newspaper man, even though I am a candidate.

Our friend, Emmett Demoran, is preparing to give something away. With each Philco Television set sold from now until July 7, he will give the antenna completely installed, free of charge. Not a bad proposition.

The drive for funds for the Teen-Age Club is gaining momentum. Over one-third of the quota has been raised, and we feel certain that ere long the quota will be on hand. You certainly could not give to a more worthy cause. Remember, as Horace Heidt says, "It is far better to build boys, than to mend men." Send in your contribution as soon as possible.

She is one of three qualified instructors to teach the water safety courses here for the American Red Cross.

Other members of the cast are Kenneth Thompson, Mrs. Adeline Samuels, Mrs. Vicki Hill, Mrs. Christel Schaffer, Mrs. Jules Schroth, Mrs. Mae Tudury, Dr. Harold Keefe, George Fletcher, C. Drury Blair, J. J. Kelleher, Rev. Charles R. Johnson and Leo W. Seal Jr.

Lehleitner Speaks On Hawaii As State At Rotary Meeting

George Lehleitner, in a talk before the Bay Rotary club Wednesday on the statehood of Hawaii said, "In 1898 we were at war with Spain and at that time the Philippines were one of that nation's strong points. But they were 7000 miles from our west coast, and we had no Panama Canal. It was then that Hawaii proposed annexation with the United States. An act admitting the islands as an integral part of the United States was passed by both houses of Congress and Hawaii voluntarily became a part of our nation in much the same manner as had the Texas Republic a half century earlier."

Mr. Lehleitner, for many years a strong advocate of the statehood of Hawaii, set forth three facts showing that Hawaii was, in some measure, in advance of the United States in Education, health and loyalty.

"It may surprise you, as it did me," the speaker said, "to learn that the oldest schools of higher education, west of the Rockies, were not founded in California, but in Hawaii; and that until the coming of transcontinental railroads in the 1870's Californians and Oregonians often sent their children to Hawaii for their advanced schooling."

He also said that compulsory education for all children, six and older, became mandatory in Hawaii in 1835. This was many years before it became a law in the U. S.

He continued by saying that our mainland states spend an average of $178, per pupil on public education, and Hawaii spends $200 per pupil — it leads 33 states. The average salary for teachers in the U. S. is $2,440. Hawaii's average is $3,320, exceeding that of 45 states. Five years of college training is necessary for an elementary teacher's certificate. "Illiteracy is virtually non-existent in Hawaii," he stated.

Our mainland requirement is vaccination against smallpox. Hawaii's children, in addition, must be inoculated against typhoid, para-typhoid, and diphtheria. The latter has been stamped out. Hawaii's death rate is lower than that of any state in the union.

Hawaii's loyalty, he said, could be told by the FBI's report on Pearl Harbor which said that neither before, during, nor after the attack on Pearl Harbor, was there any evidence of a single act of sabotage there.

Mr. Lehleitner went on to recall the record of Hawaii's famed 100th Infantry Battalion and the 42nd combat team.

In closing, the speaker said one of the reasons Hawaii should have statehood is that 8% of its people are American citizens, and that 640 of its soldiers have fallen in the Korean War.

NOTICE TO THE PEOPLE OF BAY ST. LOUIS

Your Natural Gas Department is beginning a leakage program this week, in an attempt to find and repair all leaks on the gas distribution system.

Our first procedure will be to increase the odorant content of the gas so that leaks can be easily found through detection of the odor of the gas. This was done Sunday, June 17th.

As you know the Gas Department does not repair leaks on the customer premises. In cases of leaks found inside of your property please call your plumber. But if you discover a strong odor of gas in your yard or in the street adjacent to your house please call the Gas Department at once.

This program is being planned to increase the efficiency of your Gas Department, which belongs to you, the citizens of Bay St. Louis. May we therefore earnestly solicit your cooperation.

NATURAL GAS DEPARTMENT
CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of Jack Lott for Supervisor, Beat 4, Hancock County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951.

TO THE VOTERS OF BEAT 4:

In announcing my candidacy for re-election to the Board of Supervisors of Beat 4, I am happy to have had a part in the most progressive, honest and business-like administration in the history of our county. Most of you are familiar with the financial condition of the county and the bad roads that were inherited by this administration. A glance at the financial statement and a trip through the county will assure you of the tremendous progress that has been made in the past four years.

We are now operating on a cash basis. Bonded indebtedness has been reduced. Roads and bridges have been improved with funds saved by efficient handling of your money without the necessity of additional bond issues.

I point with pride to the unanimous adoption of my motion by the Board of Supervisors designating Project No. 104 for immediate paving under the State Aid program, this project to begin on Pearl River County line at Lee town and to continue through Kirt to Harrison County line east of Fenton.

MY PLATFORM

I pledge to strengthen and continue my present policy as follows:

1. Equal distribution of road work in communities.
2. Sound plan of tax reduction.
3. Annual reduction of bonded indebtedness.
4. Encouragement of new industries.
5. Support of workable hospital program.
6. Expansion of "Pay-as-you-go" Road paving Program under state aid.

Under the state-aid road program, which I consider the greatest opportunity ever afforded Hancock County, the federal and state governments furnish 90% of the cost with the county contributing only 10%. So with wise and careful management of our funds, we can black-top and improve all our roads at a minimum cost without additional taxation. We are now beginning this program under Project No. 104.

I am anxious to complete the work now getting underway and with your support and assistance in the coming primaries, I will have the opportunity of helping to bring to a conclusion the greatest road-building program ever undertaken in Hancock County.

Respectfully submitted,
JACK LOTT
Candidate for Member of Board of Supervisors, Beat 4.

Hardin H. Shattuck, manager of the Coast Electric Power Association tendered his resignation as Director of the Hancock County Civilian Defense Council at a meeting of that group Friday, June 15, at the Courthouse.

Citizens Show An Interest In Youth Development By Aiding Youth Center

Citizens deeply interested in the development of the youth of the community have sent in contributions for the maintenance of the Bay St. Louis Youth Center. To date $380.00 have been contributed.

With this money, which is only about one-third of the necessary quota, the Teen-Age club will be able to keep its doors open for the youth of the area for a little while.

Small or large donations to the Center, which is badly in need of operating funds, will help mold the future and characters of the teenagers in Bay St. Louis and surrounding vicinity; because, it is here that they can find wholesome entertainment and supervised recreation. They can spend there, idle moments at the club

The State Bond Commission sold $3,400,000 in revenue bonds for the bridge Thursday, June 14, to A. C. Allyn and Company of New York and Chicago, and a syndicate of 28 other buyers at 3.5 per cent interest rate.

Sale of the bonds, which was delayed for two weeks, cleared the way for awarding the contract for the construction work.

At the 3.5 per cent rate reviewed from the Bond Syndicate last week, the proposed 25 cents for passenger automobiles per trip will be preserved, a member of the Bond Commission said.

It was further added that the Commission had turned down all of the bids previously filed in order to protect the proposed toll schedule which has been announced by the trustee for the bridge project.

The bonds for the toll bridge, which will be built under authority of a 1950 act of the Legislature, will be issued against the tolls of the bridge, and will be callable in 1954, in the event the bridge can be paid off, or if the trustees decide to refund the bonds at a lower rate of interest.

It has been estimated that the total interest for the payment of the $8,400,000 in bonds on the bridge will be approximately $6,400,000 if they run to full maturity in 30 years.

Revenue from the bridge, however, is estimated to pay off the bonds within 30 years. The Hancock Bank of Gulfport is trustee for the project.

The New York firm is ready to get under way as soon as all formal documents are signed and filed. Highway Commission officials stated. In view of the fact that preliminary work will take some time they estimated that the contractors should be on the scene and moving in equipment within two weeks. The starting date of July 1 would fall within that period.

The Bay bridge, a vital link to US Highway 90 along the Gulf Coast crosses the Bay of St. Louis from Henderson Point to Bay St. Louis.

The present, battered wood structure has been damaged by hurricane and fire within the past four years several times.

The new toll structure, which was authorized when the Legislature lifted a ban on toll bridges, will be located approximately 2000 feet north of the present site. According to the completion date called for in the contract, the construction work should be finished by June 30, 1955.

The primary purpose of the meeting is to formulate plans for the annual homecoming celebration and entertainment.

All former graduates living on the Coast are invited to attend and give their ideas for a bigger and better homecoming in 1951.

CLIMBING ONWARD

Well, here we are back again about the business conditions in the City of Bay St. Louis. We can't keep off of this subject, since it has been the bone of contention with some folks that the elimination of the slot machines in Bay St. Louis would depreciate the business activities in our city.

The Mississippi Business Review has belied this statement month after month; and in its issue of May 1951, it reports the five cities in the Biloxi-Gulfport area showing a gain of 32.7 per cent for April 1951, compared with April 1950. BAY ST. LOUIS ITSELF SHOWS A GAIN OF 17.1 PER CENT.

Not bad for the little town, particularly when it shows more business activity than Gulfport and Piquette. Of particular note, was the comment that money orders were lower in Bay St. Louis. This is a good sign that folks are dealing at home more and more.

It is silly for anyone to think that a city of the size and type of Bay St. Louis would be dependent upon the income from slot machines for its existence. The income from slot machines has never helped Bay St. Louis nor Hancock County. In fact, it has been detrimental to our progress. It has taken out of circulation more money than could have been siphoned through any other source. Today, we find the money, which formerly went into the slot machines and then into the coffers of the syndicates, coming through legitimate channels of business.

As time passes on we will see a continuation of the growth of business activity in our city and county.

When the day arrives that the business men of our County will be able to sit across the table from one another, with confidence established among them, we will see Hancock County grow in leaps and bounds.

WCSH Hears Report Of Vacation Study

Circle No. 1 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. C. McDonald, with Mrs. W. A. McDonald and Mrs. Oscar Brown serving as co-hostesses.

Mrs. W. W. James, president conducted the business session. It was voted to call the afternoon Circle No. 1, and the young women's group, which meets in the evening. Circle No. 2. Announcement was made of the School of Missions to be held at Seashore Camp Grounds, Biloxi, August 6, 10, when four courses of study will be offered.

Miss Josie Miller reported on the one day study on "A Christian's Vocation"; she also exhibited the picture of Sallman's Church donated to the children's assembly room in the new educational building.

Mrs. J. D. Vaughn was in charge of the program. The worship was given by Mrs. Hanna and Mrs. Exniclos; and the program topic dealt with the work of the Women's Division, with special mention of the needs as seen by the Executive Secretary of the various fields. Mrs. C. M. Shipp and Mrs. Hilton Smith assisted, and members who knew the secretaries personally added interesting descriptions of their workers.

An ice course was served; the conclusion of the meeting. Twenty-eight were present, and Mrs. H. Ratenburg was welcomed as a new member.

Pedestrian Protection

Jay-walking doesn't save time. You usually get stranded in mid-street trying to buck traffic. It isn't worth the risk you run of being hit. So cross only with the green traffic light, advises the American Automobile Association. If there are pedestrian signals wait for the "Walk" signal. You get there just as fast—and more safely.

TO THE CITIZENS OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

ED. P. ORTTE, CANDIDATE FOR SUPERVISOR BEAT 5, who seeks reelection on his past record—not promises, refers to the recent editorials in the local newspaper, entitled, Experience, Capable, Progressive, composed by the Editor, printed by the Editor, and very flatly tending to the Editor. My opponent, the Editor of a local newspaper, seems to be desirous of starting a MUD SLINGING CAMPAIGN. He would like to have me SLAM back at him in which case he could promote additional sales of his newspaper. Then, should I plaster his record while he was in control for so many years of the political situation in Hancock County, he would probably attempt to convert himself into a martyr, or as a poor trusting servant that tried so diligently to do all he could for the benefit of the taxpayers.

It must be nice to have a newspaper where in you can print so very many lovely articles about yourself and all the bad and naughty things about your opponents. (They say A CHILD WITH A GUN IS DANGEROUS SO IS A CANDIDATE WITH A NEWSPAPER.) I merely want to remind the citizens of Hancock County that the Editor and I have never seen eye to eye politically. I have always opposed his manner of operation. I have at all times fought back at him whenever he was wrong, and I have never at any time approved of his steam rolling tactics—in those days you will remember the Editor. (A MIGHTY MAN WAS HE.) My fight against him and his method of operation were in the interest of the taxpayers, although it took several years, I finally broke up this political organization. It might be mentioned here, that it is needless for candidates to say that they will not be controlled by an political organization as there is none. With the help of few people and later the voters, we have already abolished this organization.

So it can well be expected that now with revenge in his heart, he will try to even the score. He has nothing to lose—and everything to gain—and remember he does like to sell his newspaper. I hold no malice against this ex. political leader. I even agree with him that he is EXPERIENCED & CAPABLE, and had he utilized his given ability in a PROGRESSIVE DIRECTION, he might still be the political leader in Hancock County. The Editor mentions that Beat 5 will have one hundred and twenty thousand dollars to be expended during the next four years. He is almost correct—but there will even be more than this stated amount. Now if the citizens will refer to the County Records, they will realize that the disbursements of these funds will undoubtedly bring better results under my supervision than his.

In seeking re. election, I am doing so on my past record and if successful in being elected, I will be in a position to assist in keeping the financial records of the county in the condition they are now in. Also, I would like to complete certain plans that are now in progress such as completion of repairing the beach seawall and road—to continue negotiations in securing Federal and State Aid for the new Hospital, Health Center and sand beach. To hard surface Washington Road from the city limits through Edwardsville intersecting Kiln Road. Also, the road from Waveland bordering the Railroad to Clermont Harbor the lower Bay Road intersecting Lakeshore, hard surface road at the school. Also to work for hard surfacing all other streets and highways, to encourage industry and to promote this coastal area as a resort center. To keep our County on a sound economic basis by not issuing unnecessary bonds and meeting all obligations on bonds and interest as they become due and not to increase taxes.

MY PLATFORM IS ONE OF TRUTH AND FACTS NOT WILD FARFETCHED PROMISES—such as promising hundreds of jobs at higher wages building a two million dollar sand beach—without any consideration through what method this money may be raised. We all want improvements—but we do not want to triple our taxes with heavy bond issues. All these promises might be sincere in the belief of a candidate in his anxiety to be elected, but they certainly lack the wisdom through which medium the financing will be arranged. I am making no such promises, but certainly I will do all I can within my power to bring into realization any and everything that is humanly possible to make this County a place that the citizens will be proud of. I believe everyone realizes that the SEPTEMBER 1947 hurricane was a terrible setback to our coming administration of January 1948. With the damages that put the seawall fund in such debt, as well as the indebtedness we inherited, it was quite an obstacle to overcome. But even with this extra expense we have paid all of these debts, we have bought equipment—our roads are in better condition than they ever were—the seawall road though not completely repaired, has been put in comparable good condition. If you will ride over the roads you will wonder what all the fuss is about. Town Marshal Fred Bourgeois will tell you of the hard job he has keeping down the speeders. Our County is now on a cash basis and we have paid all bonds and interest due, still having over four hundred thousand dollars in the County Depository.

If the public will review the minutes and Claim Docket, they will see that they reflect the actions of a sincere, energetic, honest and conservative administration.

In the near future, I am going to furnish the public with an authentic record of the achievements accomplished in the past three and one half years. This report will also serve to answer in detail all of the FAULT FINDING EDITORIALS appearing in the local newspaper. In the meantime, I earnestly solicit the support of everyone in this district in the coming election, I remain,

Gratefully yours,

ED P. ORTTE

"... and I will walk out again!"

Yes, Hugh White would walk out again—would defend our cherished Southern heritage—our principles of freedom and local self-government.

In 1948 Mississippians chose Hugh White—at our state convention in Jackson—to represent us at the National Democratic Convention in Philadelphia. Hugh White is the only candidate for governor in the August 7th primary election to attend the national convention and the States' Rights organizational meeting at Birmingham.

When big city politicians tried to force us to accept anti-Southern civil rights plans, Hugh White—with our other delegates—tore Mississippi's flag from its mooring and marched out of the convention hall and went on to Birmingham.

States' Rights was reborn—our honor upheld by the courage and convictions of Hugh White and other Mississippians present.

In his opening campaign speech Hugh White went on record by saying "I walked out in '48—and I will walk out again to uphold home rule, our deep heritage and cherished principles against minority pressure groups and power-mad planners who would rule us from Washington."

GIVE WHITE THE GREEN LIGHT—NO SUBSTITUTE FOR EXPERIENCE

Submitted to and approved by C. D. Fair, Campaign Manager

Colmer Introduces
A New Tung Bill

Washington, D. C. (Special)—Representative Wm. M. Colmer (D-Miss.) last week introduced a bill to protect the young domestic tung industry from unfair competition from foreign imports of tung oil, particularly from China.

This bill had two main provisions:

1. It would set up a quota system for tung oil somewhat similar to that in effect for some years for sugar.

2. When the domestic price of tung oil falls below the support price as established by the Secretary of Agriculture, under the Colmer bill passed by Congress two years ago, a duty of 25 per centum would be imposed on all imports of the oil.

Under the bill the Secretary of Agriculture would be authorized to determine for each calendar year the domestic needs for tung oil and then to prorata among the foreign countries the amount of tung oil needed, in addition to the domestic crop, to meet these requirements.

The effect of the provision for a tariff would be that no duty would be imposed at present, since the domestic price of tung oil is far above the support price.

Colmer explained, however, that this provision was included in the bill for future protection of the industry in the event imports from Communist China became available again. He said that, prior to the outbreak of the Korean War, Red China had been underselling the support price by one cent per pound and that quantities of tung oil from that source were dumped on the domestic market at strategic moments to beat down the domestic price. His bill is designed to prevent a recurrence of such a situation and thereby to give the infant domestic industry a chance to grow. Tung oil is used in much equipment needed by the armed forces and has become a material of great strategic importance. Since we are dependent almost entirely on domestic production during time of war, the Mississippi Congressman stated that the country should foster in every possible way the industry.

The bill, Colmer said, was the "result of much study and incorporates the suggestions made by both the American Tung Oil Association and the Tung Growers Council."

He added that "While I am sure it is not perfect and no doubt subject to improvement, it does offer a basis for hearings before the appropriate committee of Congress."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Place for Everything—Including Trash!

Just before the high school graduation ceremony at the athletic field, some folks driving by threw trash out their car windows.

Miss Gilbert, the high school principal, said it was a sight to see: the senior class marching in, and newspapers and paper plates hopping across the grass, right in front of them.

That was why Miss Gilbert hit on the idea of putting a big wire basket smack in the fork of the state highway—just as you get to the athletic field. "There'll be a sign on it saying 'Please Use'

Me," she said. "And soon as we can, we'll put baskets on other corners—to help lick this trash problem."

From where I sit, most people are only too glad to do the right thing. If someone shows the way. Reminds me of how the beer retailers of this state keep their places of business so clean and orderly—cooperating with the Self-Regulation Program sponsored by the Brewing Industry. They show the way—to run their business right.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

FOOD SAVED IS MONEY SAVED

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

It has been estimated that 125 million pounds of food are wasted in the United States every day and that one-fourth to one-third of this amount could be saved in the home.

Garbage studies made in 247 cities revealed that garbage contained 225 pounds of food per person per year that was edible before it was thrown away. Of this amount, 160 pounds per person was wasted in the home each year.

While food is not short in the United States at the present time, food prices are at an all-time high and the supply of food does not equal the demand. The shortage of food in the world is great; 75 percent of the world's people do not have enough to eat and many of these live at near starvation levels.

As a housewife, you, therefore, have an important responsibility in preventing food waste. By doing so, you will not only be helping your own family, but also much less fortunate families. What may seem more important to you as an individual is that in these days of high prices, food saved is money saved. One hundred pounds of food saved for each person in your family will be dollars saved, not pennies or even dimes.

How can I do my part in saving food, you ask. You can do it by careful planning and buying, proper storage and preparation of food and prevention of waste at the table.

Proper storage preserves flavor and this means more will be eaten and less thrown away. Proper storage preserves nutritive value.

Studies at the Mississippi Experiment Station on turnip greens and lima beans showed little loss of vitamin C when vegetables are stored in the refrigerator. These studies showed less loss of food value of peas and similar vegetables when they were stored unshelled than when stored shelled. It is best not to store more than a day or so, the studies showed, since there is loss of vitamin C even in the refrigerator.

Proper cooking means more is eaten and less thrown away. Proper cooking means conservation of minerals and vitamins. Cooking in large amounts of water a long time causes loss of nutrients; cooking a short time conserves vitamin C. Cooked vegetables stored in the kitchen lose more nutrients than those stored in the refrigerator.

FARM FAMILY LIVING

The theme for one of the three farm family living demonstrations to be presented during the annual Farm and Home Week at State College July 16-19, will be "Conserving Foods for Health and Security." It will deal with extending the meat supply through proper cutting of meat and meat cooking. Another feature of this demonstration will be preparation of vegetables, fruits and meats for freezing and canning.

Another farm family living demonstration, "Living in Peace in a Defense Program," will feature home gardening and table arrangements.

Make your plans to join your friends and neighbors at State College July 16-19. Be on hand to take part in all the educational and recreational events. Make it a real vacation.

VEGETABLE SEED

You will do well to begin saving more of your home vegetable seeds this month. Save only pods or fruit of good shape or color and from disease-free plants. Let the seed mature on the plant, then harvest them and dry further before storage. Put seed for storage in a closed container, label and store in a dark, cool place.

SEWING HINT

"Press as you sew" is the best short cut known. Keep all pressing equipment near the sewing center.

Keep your iron clean and smooth. To clean it, use a little silver polish, or put salt on a piece of paper and slide the hot iron over it. To keep the iron smooth, cover a piece of waxed paper with a coarse cloth. Run the hot iron over this cloth. Then slide the iron over a piece of plain paper to remove any extra wax.

Weekly News Letter

By W. F. Bond, Commissioner State Department Public Welfare

In passing on applications for public assistance no difference can be made on account of color since the same budget has to be made on every applicant alike and all grants of assistance must be made on the basis of need only.

All over the South, especially in South Carolina and Mississippi there is an earnest effort being made to give the Negro population better schools for the reason that because this has not been done in the past, our segregation laws are about to be broken down by the Federal courts.

The public welfare program is a Federal State program with the Federal Government putting up most of the money and any difference because of race would be certain to get us into more trouble even if we were inclined to do such a thing, which we are not.

Remember the dates of the Church Fair for the benefit of St. Clare's Church, Waveland - June 30 and July 1.

Pass Garden Club Installs Officers

The first annual meeting of the Pass Christian Garden Club was held in Trinity Parish House Thursday afternoon.

Interesting reports on the work accomplished throughout the year were given by the officers. Outstanding features of the reports were the sponsoring of the Azalea Garden Club for colored people, planting a living Christmas tree in Memorial Park and assisting with the planting of Confederate Jasmine Vine around the fence of the Parker Memorial Softball Park.

In appreciation for the use of Trinity Parish House, the club donated a Camellia bush to the Church grounds.

The installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Steven A. Jennings who presented a spray of native pine, tied with green and brown ribbons, which is the club symbol and colors, to the following officers:

Mrs. Dorothy D. Dennis, president; Mrs. William W. Carter Jr., vice-president; Mrs. Lyman Page, recording secretary; Mrs. Roy Hagerty, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Martin Farrell, treasurer; Mrs. Hugh W. Fitzpatrick, parliamentarian; and Mrs. William J. Curran, historian.

Mrs. Dennis then told the members of the project for the coming year which will be to assist and help further research by the New York Botanical Garden in a study of antifungal substances similar to, but different from penicillin, in Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts, has established shelters in various climatic sections of the country where molds are collected for part of this study.

Another interesting part of the research program is concerned with the study of the fundamentals of abnormal growth with special reference to the general problem of cancer. Dr. R. S. deRopp, supported in part by the American Cancer Society, is occupied with a study of plant tumors which in many of their characteristics resemble cancer in humans.

Recently the New York Botanical Garden had an exhibit of a scene from the Amazon Jungle called a visit to Venezuela. A special feature of which was a demonstration of the use of the native blow-gun. The poison which the Indians use on darts is curare, a virulent poison long known to the natives which has recently been used in the civilized world in the treatment of infantile paralysis and as an adjunct to anesthesia.

Mrs. Dennis reminded the members that the primary purpose of the club was the study of horticulture and beautifying home gardens, but participating in even a small way in scientific plant research for cures of diseases for which there is now no known cure would indeed be rewarding.

The following new members were welcomed at the meeting: Mrs. Harrington H. Holzin, Mrs. Benjamin Brown, Mrs. Samuel P. Schwing, Mrs. William A. Lighter Jr., Mrs. W. S. Vandenberg, Mrs. John Bell and Mrs. Archie Smith.

New Generating Plant Goes Into Full Operation Near Meridian This Week

Mayor Laurence Paine of Meridian turned a valve today setting in motion the mighty generator on full commercial operation at Plant Sweatt, Mississippi Power Company's new steam electric generating plant near Meridian.

The low hum of the turbo-generator was the only indication that an additional 58,000 horsepower of electrical generating capacity was at work.

Plant Sweatt is the largest single construction job ever completed in the Meridian area. Work was started in October 1949 when Governor Wright turned the first spadeful of earth at the ground breaking ceremonies. At that time he referred to the plant as "A symbol of the faith which a private industry has in the future of Mississippi through the expansion of its facilities" and "one of the highlights of the industrial development of our state."

The new plant is a part of Mississippi Power Company's construction program which has been moving at an accelerated rate since early in 1945. Other major projects include 90,000 horsepower generating capacity at Plant Eaton and a 107 mile 110,000 volt transmission line between the two plants by way of Newton.

This provides a second 110,000 volt tie-in, assuring maximum continuity of service.

Plant Sweatt generates electricity at 13,000 volts and this is stepped up to 110,000 volts in the plant substation for transmission to the farms, homes, businesses and industries of southeast Mississippi.

All communities served by the company are connected to Plant Sweatt through a high voltage interconnected transmission network.

During a luncheon preceding the brief ceremony today, L. P. Sweatt, President of the company, announced that construction would begin immediately on a second 58,000 horsepower generating unit at the plant. This additional unit will be a duplication of the one just completed. Materials have been on order for some time and it is expected that the additional unit will be completed in early 1953.

"We are continuing," said Mr. Sweatt, "our policy formulated in the beginning of the company in 1925 of building in advance of future needs to assure the section we serve of ample power for all purposes at the lowest possible cost. Our faith in the future growth and development of our state multiplies with each passing year and we are backing our beliefs in the expenditure of many millions annually for new facilities and improvement."

Mr. Sweatt pointed out that this plant is one of eight plants to be built on The Southern Company system, during 1951-54. These plants will provide an additional one million kilowatts of generating capacity during that time. All operating companies of The Southern Company are interconnected by high voltage transmission lines.

Plant Sweatt, like Mississippi Power Company's other modern installation, Plant Eaton, is a gas fired high pressure, steam electric generating plant. However, unlike Plant Eaton, it is built entirely above ground level. The first major phase of construction was the driving of more than 700 ten inch steel pipe pilings. These were then filled with concrete. Average depth of the pilings is approximately forty feet although some were driven as much as seventy-five feet.

Three pilings support the base slab, a tremendous concrete slab three feet thick upon which the massive building is constructed. More than 2,000 cubic yards of concrete were required for the base slab. From the base slab the building towers 113 feet into the air, equivalent to a ten story building. Added to this is a penthouse, housing a stair well and an elevator shaft, which will bring the total height to approximately 140 feet. The building is rectangular with the outside dimensions being 114 feet by 143 feet, with an electrical room on one side 35 feet by 28 feet.

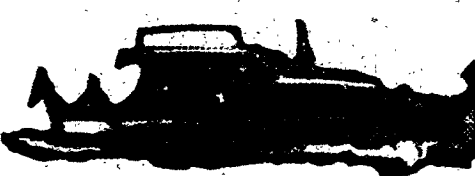

Other structures in connection with the plant are: a cooling tower with a 30,000 gallon reservoir, a 20,000 barrel capacity fuel oil storage tank, a 15,000 gallon lighter oil fuel tank and several smaller tanks.

All water used for the plant is obtained from deep wells drilled to a depth of approximately one thousand feet. With the plant running, at capacity almost 50 million gallons of water are used for cooling purposes in a 24 hour period. The cooling tower, of course, allows this water to be used again and again with little loss.

The tremendous, highly efficient boiler of this plant, consumes over 13 million cubic feet of gas in a 24 hour period. Steam, heated to 900 degrees Fahrenheit, enters the turbine at a pressure of 850 pounds per square inch. After it has passed through the turbine, its heat is only approximately 100 degrees. During its passage it has rotated the generator at a speed of 3600 revolutions per minute and approximately 1,000,000 KW of electricity can be generated during each 24 hour period.

Approximately two years were required for construction of this massive plant, and more than 70,000 man days of labor.

He's grown—fast!

Pearl Harbor—1941. Korea—1951. Only ten years. But in that time the Bell System's capacity to serve the Nation has literally doubled!

And the Long Distance telephone network which ties America together has grown even more. In 1941, there was very little coaxial cable in use. Radio relay was still in an experimental stage. Yet today there are 8000 miles of coaxial cable in service—plus thousands of miles of radio relay. And Long Distance telephone circuits have increased in ten years from about 4,800,000 miles to 20,800,000.

In times like these, telephone lines are defense lines. For they are helping America rush its big production program. It's fortunate this nation-wide network has grown so big, so fast.

STONE AND BLUE APPOINTED

The Mississippi District Office of Price Stabilization in Jackson, announces the appointment of John E. Stone as Chief of the Trial Section, designed as Special Assistant to the U. S. Attorney, and Edward L. Blue Special Agent in charge of the Investigation Section, this week. Both men have had wide experience in their respective fields.

For the past four years Mr. Stone has been Mississippi Assistant Attorney General and has specialized in legal work for the State Oil and Gas Board and has also assisted in correcting faulty school land statutes. He is a former member of the Jackson Law Firm, of Barnett, Barnett, Jones and Stone. He is a World War II veteran and a native of Newton, Mississippi.

Mr. Blue has been Director of the Bureau of Identification, for the Mississippi Highway Patrol since 1948. He formerly served with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the U. S. Border Patrol. He is a native of Brookhaven, Mississippi. He will have charge of the state-wide OPS investigation work, maintaining a large staff of field investigators for the strict enforcement of Ceiling Price Regulations.

Business people in Mississippi needing copies of OPS ceiling price regulations should contact the District Office, 126 East Amite Street, Jackson, Mississippi.

Practically all types of mens and womens, childrens and infants apparel has been brought under Ceiling Price Regulation by the OPS, it was announced today. The purpose of the new regulation, which manufacturers must comply with by August 15, is to roll back any cost margins that may have been widened since the pre-Korean days, to restore normal cost-price relationships, and to grant makers any needed relief from the general freeze order.

In addition to most kinds of garments and underwear, the new regulation (CPR 45), controls prices on bathing suits, handbags, neckwear, scarves, ear muffs, garter supporters, hat bodies and other items important in the family budget.

The first Ceiling Price Regulation covering the 1951 pack of seasonal canned vegetables has been announced by the OPS. The new regulation (CPR 42), establishes the methods by which a canner determines his ceiling prices for the 1951 pack of canned asparagus, spinach and other green vegetables, green peas, green beans, field peas, new potatoes and canned rhubarb.

Official charts of retail ceiling prices will be posted in all Mississippi meat markets on Monday, June 25. This is the first time beef ceiling prices have been moved up a week.

Housewives can refer to the price charts which must be posted by butchers and meat markets in a readily visible place, to be sure they pay no more than the ceiling prices for beef cuts.

New price charts showing lower prices will be effective August 1, and still lower prices will go into effect October 1.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Control Cotton Insects This Year

By HOWARD SIMMONS

Control Cotton Insects . . . Do not let the boll weevil and boll worm destroy your cotton this year. Follow the Extension recommended poisoning schedule to control these and other harmful insects.

BOLLWORMS are showing up in cotton early this year due to the scarcity of corn and soy beans, their usual food for this time of year. These insects feed on the terminal bud, then move down the plant to the squares. Apply control when five to ten worms are found to 100 terminal buds.

CONTROL—Boll worms can be controlled at this time of year with either one and one-half pounds of toxaphene or one-half pound of DDT to the acre. Toxaphene is preferred at this season as it causes less cotton asphid build up. See your County Agent for control details.

Boll Weevils. Begin boll weevil control when the first squares begin to form. Poison at weekly intervals during the emergency period of weevils. Make three of four applications.

If cotton does not have squares until the latter part of June, base poisoning schedule on infestation counts.

LATE JUNE AND JULY INSECT CONTROL JOBS

Control horn flies, ticks and horse flies on cattle. Watch field crops for insect damage and apply controls when needed. Spray barns and outbuildings for house fly and mosquito control. Watch livestock for screw worm attack. Apply U. S. Shear 62 or screw-worm smear E. Q. 335 to all cuts.

BLISTER BEETLES if not controlled will strip soybeans, other field crops and practically all garden crops. These are general feeders and in a short time can strip the leaves off whole areas. They are shaped similar to lightning bugs and vary in color.

CONTROL. For field crops use 20 percent toxaphene or 5 percent DDT dust at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds to the acre. In home gardens, use 5 percent methoxy-chlor dust or spray with one half cup of 50 percent methoxychlor powder to three gallons of water.

PASTURE TIPS. Get lime ordered for any area needing it. Send in soil samples on land to be planted in pastures this fall. Book or buy Ladino or fescue seed now. Know where the needed phosphate and potash for fall pastures is coming from. Pastures make one of the best soil conserving crops while making money for the farmer.

POULTRY POINTERS

Don't let cockerels get too large before selling them. The size to sell depends on the market. Most Mississippi markets do not want broilers to weigh more than three pounds. A good average weight is two and three-fourths pounds.

Remember every day you keep your poultry longer than is necessary means that much more feed is consumed. So give them a ride as soon as they reach the desired weight for your market.

Pullets on the range should have plenty of growing mash and clean, fresh, cool water. Shelters and shade are necessary during the extreme hot weather. Move shelters, feeders and waterers often so as to provide clean ground.

Vaccinate for fowl or pox when the birds are from eight to twelve weeks old. Watch for worms and treat immediately with phenothiazine and nicotine powder.

U. S. Navy Needs Qualified Typists

The Navy Department has an urgent need for qualified Typists and Stenographers to be employed in a civilian capacity in Navy Headquarters, Washington, D. C. Miss Anna Knight, Navy Civilian Representative, is stationed at the Navy Recruiting Station, Customs House, 423 Canal Street, New Orleans, to interview applicants for these positions.

Workers are hired on the spot and receive their appointment papers on successful completion of a civil service test which is administered by Miss Knight and graded immediately thereafter. The stenographic dictation is given at the rate of 80 words 3 minute, and the typing test is based on a 10-minute plain copy test.

The positions carry GS-2, GS-3, and GS-4 civil service ratings with entrance salaries of $2450, $2650, and $2875 per year, with ranges up to $3170, $3370, and $3575 per year, respectively. The yearly salary is based on a five-day work week, and the employment carries 26 days of annual leave with pay and 15 days' sick leave per year, in addition to eight legal holidays.

The Navy Department will make reservations for living accommodations for all applicants who are accepted for appointment.

SECRETARY OF STATE
DEAN ACHESON

For the past several months, in fact ever since the dapper and learned Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, came to the rescue of the convicted Communist, Alger Hiss, rumors have been running around official Washington that the Secretary would resign. President Truman, who appointed Acheson to his present position, has just as repeatedly denied these rumors. In fact, the President has said that Dean Acheson would stay on just as long as he, Truman, remained in office.

Notwithstanding all of the official denials of the President, of Acheson himself, and others, it is generally understood that Acheson will resign. The only question is when. Like any other man in public life, Acheson is subject to the criticism of a high public official. Like others, he stands or falls by the success of the policies of the Administration that appointed him and by the policies which he advocates.

But Mr. Acheson is not only the appointee of President Truman and therefore the victim of any unpopularity that comes the President's way, but Mr. Acheson is, as Secretary of State, the fourth most important officer in the Government, and is responsible for the foreign policy of the country. Like all other men in public life, when the policies he advocates are successful, his stock goes up and, of course, when those policies are not successful, his stock goes down. The fact is that the Administration's foreign policy has not been too successful. This may or may not be Mr. Acheson's fault. The Korean situation hasn't turned out too well. The Republicans won't permit the country to forget this. They have been waging war on the Secretary for many months. This was to be expected. For many months many leading Administration Democrats defended the Secretary just as staunchly as the Republicans criticized him. But now the situation has changed. Many of these Administration Democrats have come to the conclusion that Acheson is hurting the Party. They are becoming worried lest his remaining on should cripple the chances of the Democrats in 1952. They take the position that it is not important whether Acheson is right or wrong. They see in him a liability to the Party. They are now urging the President to let him go.

Staunch Administrationists, like the liberal Senator from Illinois, Paul Douglas, have publicly called Acheson a political liability. A member of the President's Cabinet, Attorney General Howard McGrath, apparently was paving the way for Acheson's getting out when he said that "Acheson may eventually conclude that courageous public service exacts a price that is not worth paying." In the cloak rooms of both the House and Senate there is more and even stronger talk along the same lines among Administration Democrats.

Therefore, it would not be surprising if Mr. Acheson should soon resign from the Cabinet. President Truman has repeatedly said not but it will be recalled that he said the same thing about Louis Johnson, the former Secretary of Defense, who, when he, too, was regarded as a "political liability", was asked to bow out of the picture.

In the event of such a resignation a number of people have been suggested, including Chief Justice Fred Vinson of the Supreme Court. Our bet, however, is that the new Secretary will be a Republican - Averell Harriman, Paul Hoffman, John Foster Dulles or John J. McCloy. It is generally thought that the appointment of a Republican might go a long way toward restoring a bipartisan foreign policy.

-Lt. (j.g.) Roger M. Boh Jr., is stationed with the U. S. Navy in Hawaii. Mrs. Boh and their young son are residing in Coronado, California.

-Mrs. Charles Bois Jr., returned last week from a visit with her husband who is stationed in South Carolina.

-Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schaper of New York and Atlanta spent the weekend here with Mrs. Schaper's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Johns.

-Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur M. Sutter and son, David, of Birmingham, Alabama, are visiting Mrs. Sutter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Shadoin.

RE-ELECT

JACK LOTT

Candidate For Supervisor Beat 4

Hancock County

When Supervisor Lott assumed office January 1, 1948, there was no money, no credit, with due and unpaid bills of many thousand dollars. In order to begin work in Beat 4, personal guarantees were required to secure necessary materials.

Today Beat 4 has cash on hand, all bills paid, and operating strictly on cash basis.

Old bridge shown above was located at Hickory Creek on Lee Town-Necaise Crossing road. This bridge, very dangerous and dilapidated, was used for many years, causing much inconvenience to the traveling public. It was necessary for all trucks to detour around this bridge.

Shown above is the new bridge built on same location under administration of Supervisor Jack Lott. This bridge was constructed with funds saved by careful management of money set aside for road and bridge maintenance, with no additional cost to taxpayers.

New bridge was built of creosoted piling and treated lumber, including dirt fill, measuring approximately 300 ft., with an estimated value of the taxpayers of about $10,000.00.

This is typical of the splendid work being carried on throughout Beat 4 under the able direction of Supervisor Jack Lott.

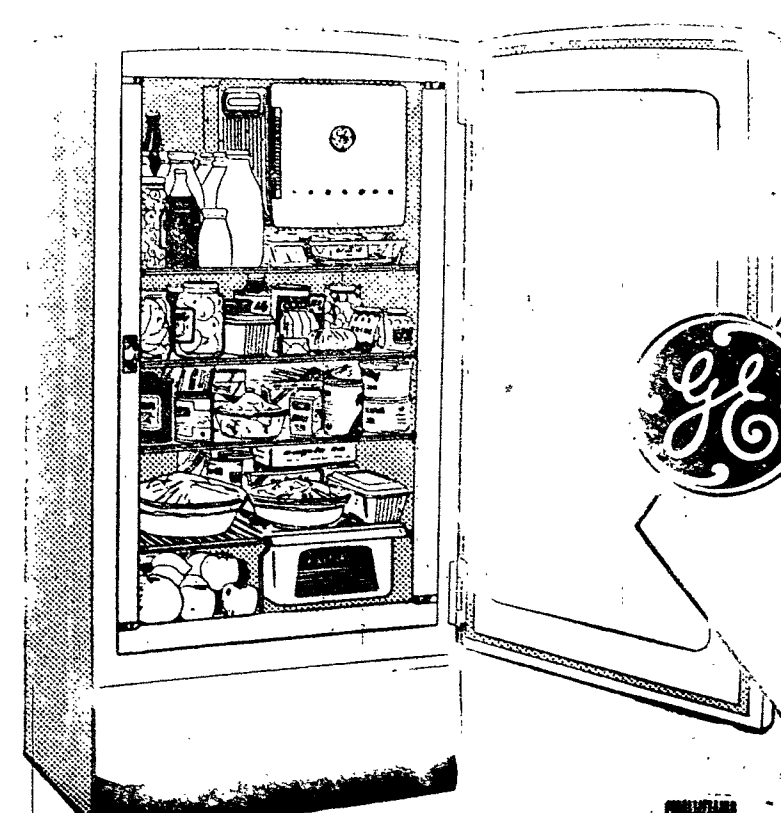

More information of this type will be furnished from time to time.
